The Awakening of the Samurai Light Workers

Aluna Joy

June, July, and August is going to be a hot bed of transformation, and I am not talking about the thermometer either. This is the biggest shift to hit the consciousness of humanity to date, and I know you are feeling it.

The exhaustion we felt on and around June 3rd was due to a Maya Astrology reboot of the Tzolk'in. We are just beginning to emerge out of this exhaustion. This hits us every 260 days . . . but this rebooting was brutal and made a lot of us go take a nap . . . for days! It was the BIGGEST leap we have made thus far. Now we are quickly coming up on the solstice solar energy on June 21st. This is another leap before we have a chance to anchor and integrate the last leap.

The Perseids Meteor showers hit us from July 17th through August 24th. The storm will peak on August 12th at a whopping rate of 50-100 meteors per hour. The Star Elders say that this meteor shower is the remains of the lost planet Maldek. In ancient history, Maldek was destroyed by the misuse of energy and power much like the fall of Atlantis. This particular meteor shower will be greatly amplified with the powerful energy that we are presently in. It will trigger a lot of upheaval in those that had something to do with the destruction of planet Maldek, the fall of Atlantis, or even those that had something to do with deploying nuclear bombs. There could be an acceleration of tension in the Middle East.

Present medical authorities will be confused by the strange wave of mental illnesses and physiological break downs. This occurs because out of date, negative, mental concepts and programming will be scrambled, while new positive programs and concepts begin to emerge. To the sensitive ones out there, this is going to feel like a psychic white-out of sorts . . . like a sensory overload.

In this scrambling, some that we thought were asleep are actually awake . . . and others who thought they were awake are actually asleep. The beauty of this is that each of us will not be able to waste precious time judging each other. Only Creator knows our heart, and it is now time to take care of home base, our own hearts and bodies, as we quickly evolve, seemingly, out of control. All this is somewhat subtle now, (not kidding here) but it will become more noticeable as time passes. Unfortunately, the ones who really need this information will not be reading this. Let us send them love and clarity, and most of all, an open door. Those of us that are getting this information will get through this, if we stick together and listen to our hearts.

So how is this affecting us, and how can we make this powerful time easier on our body?

The physical body is REELING out of control with the accelerated shifts. It does not know how to let go of something it knows and understands. It is a mechanical consciousness that was programmed by you and your ancestors. You MUST help your body understand that this is a wonderful evolution and that the shift does not mean a physical death, but a long awaited transformation.

When we take our physical bodies into new frequencies that it does not understand, there will be panic . . . anxiety . . . fear . . . and all kinds of physical symptoms that are un-diagnosable by doctors. We might experience all over body aches, ringing in the ears, intense allergies and dizziness. As our bodies are forced to let go of what it has always known, so it fights the changes, thus causing varied symptoms. Our symptoms are actually a way of repelling this dimension so we can move on. Our Spirits want to let go so we can evolve and shift into the new age.

Take care of your body . . .

Drink – Breathe – get a lot of SUN. Eat huge amounts of antioxidant foods, take digestives aids and probiotic formulas. Flower Essences, homeopathics and body work are also at the top of the list to help the body let go and move into the emerging frequencies.

As we begin let go, we will briefly go through a place where we will feel we are split in half. Just like we are walking between the dimensions right now, so is our body. Many times we will be torn between two choices. We are torn between being the powerless victim (the past world), and the emerging Master (the future world).

Let me explain further . . . In the new reality that we are creating out ahead of us, is the future world of the emerging Master. The law that applies is “What we focus our attention on, we will create.” This Universal law has hit mass consciousness in a big way this year and is gaining more power each day. What this also does is that it limits the effectiveness of how we have always done things. It short circuits old time tested methods and programs.

The old way, the passing world of the powerless victim, the law that applied was “Find an authority to solve your issue, and give your power away to that authority”. The law also focused on the issue; not the solution. You went to battle with the issue, and forced it to be right. This concept is losing footing in the present moment and is less effective than it used to be. Everything from war to antibiotics will not be an effective way to solve issues.

The more footing the laws of the past loose, the more we will be in charge of creating our reality now and in the future. It is a great responsibility for us and a great challenge.

The issue is what side to operate in as we cross the bridge in each moment. We are living between these two worlds with different creative laws that are still operating. It is no wonder why we feel confused and exhausted trying to decide which way to go. There are no clear sign posts for us to follow at this time.

Example . . . if you had allergies, do you (A) go to a health provider and face the issue head on? or (B) do you erase it from your consciousness and imagine perfect health? I know what the Ascended Masters say . . . always imagine perfect health. Well, I think that is easy for them to say considering that they are not living in this shifting, volatile dimension. Yet we do know and understand that what we put a lot of attention on WILL GROW. So we better place our attention on what we WANT, and not on what we don't want. We have to stop watering the weeds and start watering the flowers.

Get clear about your highest path.

It is time to choose to . . . stay behind . . . stand still and wait . . . or cross the bridge that takes us to the next reality. One of the ways to get clear about what is best for you in each moment is by observing any conflict you might have about a direction you are taking. This is all perfectly timed just for you by your internal alarm clock, so you must listen. So when you use self talk like “I should” or “I have to”, this is your old past, mechanical consciousness going against your heart. Remember . . . it will be easier to know what you DON'T WANT in the beginning. But if you know what you don't want, that is half the battle. Ask yourself “WHAT DO YOU WANT!” What could replace the negative with the positive. Remember, the heart knows its way through this maze of multidimensional confusion as we feel the past, present, and the future at the same time. Are you listening to your heart?

Everything from the past world is dropping away from us. We are letting go of this dimension bit by bit. The more we let go of this world, the less we will want to engage in it. The way this shows up is that we tend to lose interest in many things that we used to love. It gets hard to find things that inspire and impassion us. Soon there will be very little of the old world that we are attached to. It will be easy to let go when the new world begins to emerge out in front of us . . . and this is already beginning to become apparent. We are already seeing the signs.

Now here is the fun stuff . . .

Even though we are not quite sure where we are going yet, we are feeling a wave of motivation . . . a great inner push. Thank the Creator for this! This is a nice break from not having any motivation at all. But be patient for the heart to show you the way. This might mean going backward for a short time, standing still, or joyfully rushing forward.

We may begin to see the new world appear in front of us in simple ways at first . . . a new color . . . a new sound or frequency . . . a shift in your personal consciousness. It reminds me of magic eye images. Remember the images that when you relax your eyes, another image pops into view that was always there, but now you just see it for the first time? The emerging wisdom of the new world will appear in just the same way. You will just remember something; something that you didn't know before. This is why I am so amazed with sacred sites because many of these sites will do this for you. That is why so many of us on this path travel so much.

Those that caused the destruction of planet Maldek, Atlantis, or deployed nuclear bombs will self destruct in there own negativity, thus clearing out a good portion of the world's negative forces. Yahoo! The souls that were cracked by this misuse of power will hit healing crises, or leave the planet to be healed in a wonderful place created for the sole purpose of healing cracked souls.

Further down the road, we will see more UFO sightings and other strange multi-dimensional phenomena like Sasquatches, Star Beings and Masters . . . you name it. It is going to be really fun to see all the things that we used to "see" inside, now appear to us in the physical world. Right now, UFO sightings in Peru have been multiplying (See the YouTube videos).

The BEST NEWS is that as the new world emerges, the Samurai Light Workers will be called into action . . . The UN Universal Peace team will anchor peace . . . The Bird Tribes will help us take flight . . . and the Star Seeds will raise us up, so we will shine even brighter. It will be like a great universal awakening in our human family.

How do you feel about letting go of this dimension? How are you going about doing it? What are you experiencing? We want to hear about it. We need each other more than ever now so talk to each other. Share all the strange stuff that is going on . . . create blogs and web sites and begin support groups. All this will help us realize we are not alone and not going crazy.... And will help us glide through what could be the most amazingly strange and interesting time in evolution we have ever experienced.
